COX AND WILSON IN PERFECT ACCORD

President and Governor Hold Conferences and Find That They Agree

Washington, July 18.—Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for the Presidency, assured President Wilson that if elected he would do everything within his power to carry out the promises the President has made relative to the great issue of the League of Nations.

This assurance was given by the candidate in the conference which the President had at the White House with Mr. Cox, and in which Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, who is the Democratic nominee for Vice President, also participated.

The conference began at 10:30 o'clock. The Democratic nominees were with the President an hour.

G. O. P. Hopes Are Blasted

Republican hopes and predictions that the views of Mr. Cox and Mr. Wilson would clash over the League of Nations went glimmering at 1 o'clock when formal statements were issued at the White House showing that the President and Mr. Cox are in perfect accord on the league issue.

In his statement, Mr. Cox declared without equivocation his agreement with the President as to the meaning and sufficiency of the Democratic platform relative to the treaty situation.

"What he (the President) promised," Mr. Cox declared, "I shall, if elected, endeavor with all my strength to give."

Mr. Wilson announced in his formal statement that he had found what he already knew, that Mr. Cox and he were "absolutely as one with respect to the great issue of the League of Nations, and that he is ready to be the champion in every respect of the honor of the nation and the secure peace of the world."

Will Have Wilson's Help

The President's statement gave most definite assurances that "Governor Cox will have the vigorous support of an absolutely united party," and declared the President's confidence of an absolutely united nation.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt also issued a statement in which he asserted "that the President and Governor Cox were two men in splendid accord."

The conference was probably the most important to be held by the candidates at any stage of the campaign.

Without the full and unqualified support of the President there is no doubt that the Democratic nominee would be defeated. With the vigorous and active support of the President and a united party the candidates and the leading Democrats are confident that they will wage a winning campaign. The statements of the participants radiated confidence. The President predicted flatly that Mr. Cox will have the support of an "absolutely united nation."

Mr. Roosevelt said with no qualification that his "new commander-in-chief," will be Mr. Wilson's "wholly worthy successor."

COX WOULD APPOINT TILLER OF SOIL AS SECY. AGRICULTURE

Dayton, O.—A real dirt farmer will be the next Secretary of Agriculture if the Democratic party is successful at the November election, according to a statement made by Governor Cox, the Democratic Presidential nominee.

His promise to appoint a real farmer as head of the Nation's farming activities, providing he is elected, was made to a delegation of the governor's neighbor farmers who called at his home at Trull's End. He said: "If elected President, I will select a dirt farmer as Secretary of Agriculture, a man who has tilled the soil himself and made a successful business of farming. In the doing of which he has demonstrated his efficiency as a business."

COX OPTIMISTIC AS TO OUTCOME IN KENTUCKY

Washington, July 19.—Jo Morris, secretary to Representative J. Campbell Cantrill, Seventh Kentucky District, and South Trimble, Franklin County, conferred with Governor Cox. The Democratic nominee told them he was very optimistic over prospects of Kentucky giving him a substantial majority.

LEGION TO FORM PLAN FOR AMERICANIZATION

Plans for putting into effect a permanent Americanization program, through means of a State commission, will be completed at the second annual convention of the Kentucky Legion, which has been called by Ulric J. Bell, State commander, to meet in Louisville September 3 and 4.

The convention call, which goes to each one of 135 Legion posts in Kentucky, covering a membership of 15,000, states that besides the one regular representative to which every Legion post is entitled, each will be entitled to an additional delegate for each 100 members in the post.

It was said at Legion headquarters that Franklin D'Olier, National Commander, and Lemuel Boiles, National Adjutant, are expected to attend the sessions of the Kentucky convention.

D. A. Sachs, Jr., chairman of the convention arrangements for the Legion, said that the attendance probably would be treble that at the first Legion convention of the State in Louisville in October last year.

The Seelbach auditorium has been engaged for the meeting.

RAILROADS PLAN CUT IN MEN ON EVE OF STRIKE

Union Leaders May Not Call Men Out If Terms Are Acceptable

Chicago, July 19.—The Railway Labor Board, created under the Esch Cummins transportation act, will hand down tomorrow morning its first award, increasing the pay of virtually all the 2,000,000 railroad employees of the country.

Tonight, on the eve of the decision, reports from reliable quarters indicated the award would average from 50 to 60 per cent of the amount asked by the men, or between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 of the $1,000,000,000 total they sought.

Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, admitted "that is not far off" when shown the report. The board decided today, at the request of newspapers, to announce its decision at 8:30 o'clock, instead of 10 a. m., as first planned.

Whether an award on the basis reported would be acceptable to the men no union officer tonight was prepared to say. Nearly 1,000 brotherhood chairman and executives held an all-day session to discuss union affairs and adjourned until tomorrow morning, when they will receive the board's report.

Feeling Is Pessimistic

The feeling of pessimism was evident when the union leaders met, and privately they did not hesitate to declare that a general strike was a possibility. Tonight, however, it was virtually certain that the union chiefs themselves would not call a strike, but would submit the question of accepting or rejecting the board's award to a referendum.

Washington, July 19.—There was a report current here today that, following the report of the wage board, which is expected to be made public tomorrow railroads throughout the country will discharge a large number of their employees, the retrenchment being necessary from a standpoint of economy.

The report was given color by the announcement of the Pennsylvania Railroad that Wednesday that line will discharge 10 per cent of all its employees in the maintenance, equipment and clerical departments of the Southern Division.

TOMATOES FOUND GROWING ON A POTATO VINE

Carlisle, Ky., July 17.—Sheriff J. W. Myers and Jailer Russell Lawrence, of this county, who have a garden near the city, brought to the courthouse a very unusual vegetable freak. They dug up a hill of potatoes and upon the potato vine found growing six small green tomatoes, the largest about half the size of a hen egg. The tomatoes were cut open and found to contain seed similar to any other tomatoes. Sheriff Myers says that tomato vines were growing in the garden near the potato growing. —Exchange.

Evidently these officials as well as the writer of the above article are lacking in horticultural knowledge. The so called tomatoes are evidently potato seed. The editor of this paper confesses having made the same mistake recently, when a subscriber brought in a specimen similar to the above. We have since talked with a number of farmers and horticultural experts who have seen potato seed and say this is perfectly natural although rare.

FOUR EARTHQUAKES JAR LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Fear-Stricken Crowds Flee To Streets; Buildings Damaged; Hospitals Filled

Los Angeles, July 17.—Four severe earthquakes here threw the city and its suburbs into excitement, indirectly caused a number of injuries to men, women and children and damaged buildings.

While the shocks seemed to center in Los Angeles, some of them were felt more than thirty miles away.

Cracks in the fronts and walls of a few buildings were reported after the second and third quakes, and hospitals in department stores were overflowing with fainting and hysterical women shoppers.

For hours the receiving hospital maintained by the city was crowded with women and children, most of them having fainted in the excitement of the trembles. Some, however, suffered more serious accidents. Private and emergency hospitals were overflowing with hysteria and fainting cases.

Turns In First Alarm

Adding to the excitement was a fire alarm turned in when a piece of roofing fell from a building at Main and Market Streets, breaking a fire alarm box. When the fire department responded some of the excited persons brought out the city ambulance by telephoning to the police department that a number of persons had been injured.

Public places were scenes of near-panic, some persons running for the open air, some fainting, some stopping to pray. Many gathered at street intersections waiting to see what would happen. Others, who felt they must be on their way, walked down the middle of the street with watchful eyes on the buildings. Many sought Pershing Square, in the heart of the downtown district, as a sanctuary.

Mortar was jarred from brick walls and plaster from ceilings; cracks appeared in some of the older structures; a water main was broken; a few copings and chimneys fell; part of an embankment collapsed, throwing dirt and brick into the street, and plateglass windows in some of the downtown department stores were broken.

Rumors of Horror Spread

While the excitement was at its height rumors of horror traveled fast, but when it had subsided there was not one report of any extensive damage to any establishment, while the worst injury recorded was a broken leg, caused when a brick fell from the top of a building and struck an elderly man.

Perhaps the greatest clamors came from the prisoners in the County and City Jails.

BLACK CAT CLUB MEETS WITH MISS BARNETT

Miss Norine Harris Barnett most charmingly entertained the Black Cat Amusement Club, Thursday afternoon, July 15. The tables were placed on the porch and lawn where a number of delightful games of 500 were played. At the conclusion of the games, a most interesting letter to the club from Miss Winnie Davis Simmerman, telling of her trip to the Democratic National Convention was read. An exciting Cat contest was held after which delightful refreshments were served. Those entertained were Mrs. Raymond Russell, Adelaide, Mrs. J. R. Leinbaum, Russellville, Mr. E. T. Mullins, Mt. Vernon; Mrs. Ross Taylor and the members Mesdames, Louis Riley, Henderson Murphree, Misses Lella Glenn, Clifton Felix, Mattie Duke, and Mary Marks.

A SURPRISE POUND PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Jones gave a pound party Friday evening, in honor of their daughter, Zonia's 17th birthday. Quite a large crowd were present with plenty of nice things to eat. Everyone spent an enjoyable evening.

WASHINGTON NOTES

(By G. B. Likens)

Here in the District of Columbia, where there is more talking and less voting than in any other place in the country, the party platform and candidates are freely discussed by men and women of every political shade in America. And while the strictly partisan Republicans and Democrats, as a rule, see only good in the platform and candidates of their own particular party, the trend of the independent and non-partisan sentiment is very much in favor of the Democratic platform and the Cox and Roosevelt ticket.

We are glad to note the improvement in passenger service on the M. H. & E. R. R., and we confidently hope the people along that line may soon have further improvement in the mail service. Our Congressman, Hon. Ben Johnson, now has up with the Post Office Department the matter of supplying a regular mail clerk on the M. H. & E. trains, and he is urging the necessity of prompt and favorable action by the postal authorities.

The writer's family enjoy at this time having Miss Ruth Moore, of Owensboro, as a visitor in our home in Chevy Chase.

On Wednesday evening we had what might be called an Ohio County girls' party. Those present, besides Miss Moore, were Misses Corynne Shults, Hartford; Isma Mason, Buford; Nora and Mary Maddox, Rockport; Mary and Martha Quisenberry, Fordsville; Mrs. Anna Neal, Fordsville; Mrs. Futura Matthews and her mother, Mrs. Smith and little granddaughter, Ruth and Ann Sommers; Mrs. Virgie Wahl and daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth. This meeting of "home folks" was much enjoyed by us and apparently by all present.

Victor Matthews, who has been visiting his mother on K Street, has returned to Denver, Colorado.

DRY PLANK IS LOST OUT OF G. O. P. PLATFORM

Chicago, July 18.—The law and order plank adopted by the Republican National Convention has been left out of the platform as issued from Republican headquarters here. Virgil G. Hushaw, chairman of the Prohibition National Committee said, "Prohibitionists," said Chairman Hushaw, "are thunderstruck by the failure of the Republican platform issued by the National Committee to embody the law enforcement plank adopted along with other planks by unanimous vote of the Republican National Convention."

"Clinton N. Howard, representative of the Prohibition National Committee, and William Jennings Bryan sat in the Republican convention and heard this plank read in advance of its adoption, which followed without a dissenting vote. It was published as part of the platform in all the big papers of the land."

"Yesterday I went to the headquarters of the Republican National Committee in Chicago and Capt. Victor Heintz in charge, admitted the omission and said he was taking the matter up with the authorities in New York in order to ascertain the reason for leaving it out."

BITTEN BY SNAKE

David Layman, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Layman, of near this city, received a snake bite on his right foot, Sunday afternoon, while walking along a path, near his home. At first, the boy thought he had received a brier scratch, but looking down, he saw a snake crawling away. Dr. E. B. Pendleton was called and administered treatment to the wound soon after the bite and it is reported that the little fellow is doing nicely. The boy's mother later killed the snake and it proved to be a copper head.

"ODD FELLOWS"

Mr. W. B. Harris, Grand Master of I. O. O. F., Morganfield, Ky., will lecture on Odd Fellowship at Centertown Baptist church, Saturday night, July 31. All Odd Fellows and the public in general are invited to come and hear a good speaker on a good order.

OHIO COUNTY JUNIOR CLUB MEET ANNOUNCED

Program to Cover Three Days' Work, July 26th, 27th and 28th.

Ohio County Junior Club workers will convene July 26, 27 and 28 for a three day meeting for the purpose of increasing membership in the club and receiving further instruction from specialists of the College of Agriculture who will address the meeting familiarizing the boys and girls with the aims and ideals of the Junior club and the many opportunities it offers for increased appreciation and development.

At the present time there are only 11 members in the Ohio county Junior club but there are 7183 members eligible at this time and the meeting planned should cause the enrollment of a large number of the boys and girls of the community who are urged to attend the meetings and become members of the club.

The Junior Club is a part of the regular extension work conducted by the College of Agriculture in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture. This organization is composed of about 10,000 wide-awake boys and girls living mostly on Kentucky farms who are studying new developments and progressive methods of crop production, soil maintenance, feeding and management of live stock, business methods and the various phases of home making. This work is carried on in a similar manner as a part of the extension program of every state thus making it a national organization.

The object of a Junior club is to furnish through its organization an opportunity for boys and girls to develop themselves educationally, socially and economically. In following the directions for a club project members must read and investigate for themselves. Their information and experience is increased and their vision is broadened. In their monthly meetings they have the advantage of group experience and learn co-operation in work and play. They discover how to express themselves through orderly parliamentary procedure and they keep records of receipts and expenditures. Thus they learn how to regulate their practice so as to return profit. Club work is so planned that it harmonizes with the school and church in developing and directing the constructive instinct of the boy and girl.

The responsibility of the proper organization of a county for Junior Club work lies with the county leader. Securing proper local community leaders is a very important problem to be solved.

Any boy or girl, from 10 to 18 years old inclusive, may become a member of a club and may elect to study a course of lessons on soils, crops, animal or farm management and take an examination; to handle projects in sewing, cookery, garden and flower growing, poultry raising, canning, home decoration and equipment, food and health.

At the close of the season all members having completed the required work and made an average of 70 percent or better are entitled to a certificate of merit signed by the president of the University, the dean of the College of Agriculture, the assistant director of extension and the State leader of Junior club work.

The social, recreational and religious training of the club member is not neglected and these features will be developed according to the well laid plan worked out with careful consideration of the pleasure, enthusiasm and interest of the child.

GETTING TOGETHER PAYS

The woman's pocket money comes largely from the eggs and chickens she sells, so she should be vitally interested in this story of co-operation which appeared in a recent issue of the Southern Agriculturist.

Last March the eighteen women who are members of the Oldham County (Kentucky) White Plymouth Rock Association began the co-operative shipping of bating eggs. From that date to the first of June over 10,000 eggs have been packed and shipped.

Every Saturday afternoon the members brought their eggs to the office of the county agent and home demonstration agent for packing. As the widespread campaign for the standardization of poultry in Kentucky brought many inquiries for pure-bred eggs to these agents, the association did not need to do any advertising. In fact, the demand for eggs exceeded the supply. The standard price for these eggs was $6 per 100, and as a well-packed chip basket carried from 75 to 100 eggs, the co-operation cut down the cost of expressage to the individual member who was unable to fill large orders.

The interest developed through the co-operative packing, shipping and selling of pure-bred eggs has grown steadily to the point where the association has grasped the idea of a standardized product. Next season each member will have a rubber stamp bearing the name of the organization and the serial number of the member. Every egg shipped will be stamped so that the association can at any time place the blame for any infertile eggs sold.

Simple organizations of this type can be launched anywhere and will be of inestimable value in developing a closer community spirit. They will also fix better and stronger business methods of marketing home products.

CLUB BOY IS BREEDER

The story of a club boy's success written by James Speed, Kentucky editor of the Southern Agriculturist, is given below:

About eight years ago I became very much interested in the boys' and girls' club work which was just then getting well under way in Kentucky. During the summer of 1912 I visited a great number of boys who were in the corn club and in the course of my journeyings I met John Moser, a tall, earnest young fellow who lived near Anchorage, Ky. John Moser grew sixty-five bushels of corn to the acre that first season; but before he concluded his work he had harvested 114 bushels to the acre.

When he first became a member of the pig club in 1915 I was fortunate enough to secure a picture of John standing in front of his small homemade hog house, busy shelling corn for some pigs which had just been weaned.

In the years between 1912 and 1920 I have been continually dropping in to have a chat with John and to learn what the boy was doing. On my last visit in March, of this year, I found that the hog business had developed until John and his father were in partnership and had spent $900 of a model hog house and corn crib.

In order that the readers may realize the tremendous educational advantages of the club work, a recent letter which John sent me is given below:

"I started club work in 1912 by joining the corn club that year. In 1915 I became a member of the Boys' Pig Club. The following year, 1916, I joined the potato club.

"I carried all three of these clubs along until 1918.

"All told I was a member of the various clubs for six years, from the time I was twelve until eighteen years.

"At the state university I studied livestock feeding and judging, soils and crops and some horticulture. I learned some things from this short course that it would have taken years for me to find out otherwise.

"As to the hogs, I think I have a fairly good start. My father and I are now in this business, but intend to work up to where we can keep from twelve to fifteen sows the year round.

"I have just received a twelve months old boar, for which we paid $500 and we consider him well worth the money."

This letter is from a farm boy who is now nineteen years old. He has not only learned a great deal about livestock and crops from his years of club work; but he has also learned the value of the college of agriculture. His short course has taught him much which is of great value; but it has also put him into close touch with specialists, to whom he can take any unusual problem in the future.

—FARM

FARMERS CONSIDER

The farmers of our Country should seriously consider the difference between the planks in the Republican Platform and the Democratic Platform respecting their particular welfare, and especially the following from the Democratic Platform.

"For nearly half a century of Republican rule not a sentence was written into the Federal Statutes affording one dollar of bank credits in the farming interests of America. In the first term of this Democratic Administration the National Bank act was so altered as to authorize loans of five-years' maturity on improved farm lands. Later was established a system of farm loan banks from which the borrowings already exceed $300,000,000 and under which the interest rate to farmers has been so materially reduced as to drive out of business the farm loan sharks who formerly subsisted by extortion upon the agricultural interests of the country."

The Republican leaders at Washington have failed utterly to propose one single measure to make rural life more tolerable. They have signaled their fifteen months of congressional power by urging schemes which would strip the farms of labor, by assailing the principles of the farm loan system and seeking to impair its efficiency; by covertly attempting to destroy the great nitrogen plant at Muscle Shoals, upon which the Government has expended $70,000,000 to supply American farmers with fertilizers at reasonable cost, but ruthlessly crippling nearly every branch of agricultural endeavor, literally crippling the productive mediums through which the people must be fed.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT

A tobacco crop of approximately 437,580,000 pounds, and a reduced wheat crop of about 6,275,000 bushels, are the features of the joint Government and State crop report for Kentucky issued at Frankfort and Louisville by Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Haun and H. F. Bryant, Kentucky representative of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. This month's preliminary estimate of the acreage of corn indicates a crop of about $6,170,000 bus., the acreage being about the same as in 1919, while oats are estimated at 11,260,000 bus., rye 67,000 bus., barley 112,000 bus., Irish potatoes 5,971,000 bus., and sweet potatoes 1,555,000 bus.

This is an increase of 450,000 bushels over the June estimate of the Kentucky wheat crop, due to good filling of heads in many sections even though the acreage is greatly reduced from 1919 and there is much thin short wheat. The 1919 Kentucky wheat crop was 12,029,000 bus. and the 1919 tobacco crop in Kentucky 456,500,000 pounds. All these 1920 estimates are subject to change downward or upward as the season progresses, depending on favorable or unfavorable weather and other conditions hereafter.

These tobacco and corn estimates are the first of this season, and as planting of both crops was continued very late this year such estimates may be subject to great change either up or down before the end of the season. The tobacco average was increased considerably this year in the Central Kentucky burley district but was reduced greatly in the dark tobacco districts of Western Kentucky. As tobacco can be set in July and still make a good crop with a favorable season, setting was continued very late in some places but the acreage shows a decrease of about 10 per cent over the State as a whole. Most of the burley belt, especially the rich Blue Grass countries, has a large increase of acreage. Some hay is rank but very foul, especially with white-top, the average condition of all hay being 88 percent, while pastures generally are good. Fruit is irregular, but generally a good crop, blackberries being unusually abundant. Apples are about 65 percent of a full crop, peaches 75 percent and pears 60 percent. Melons generally are in fair condition.

OHIO COUNTY STUDENT SUCCESSFUL POULTRY RAISER

On December 8th, 1919, I began my project (feeding for egg production) with 100 pure-bred birds, mostly white wyandottes.

The poultry house was in good condition with a large scratch shed, which had windows on the south side. The only repairs necessary were two windows for the last end of shed. The walls were tight and the ventilation good.

Twice each day corn and wheat were fed in litter, which was about 7 or 8 inches deep. The mash was fed in a long trough in the scratch-shed. It was composed of wheat bran, shorts and feed scraps and the birds had access to it at all times.

During the mild days of winter the fowls had access to a small rye patch and a clover field.

The project lasted 4-1-2 months, beginning Dec. 8th, 1919 and ending April 25th, 1920. It ended in the very flush of the egg season because it became necessary to dispose of most of the flock to give safer quarters for the three or four hundred little chicks that had recently hatched out.

Receipts were as follows:
Dec. 345-6 dozen $21.07
Jan. 1155-12 dozen 61.21
Feb. 1431-6 60.00
March 1465-12 57.56
April 139 1-2 49.86
Total 579 1-3 $249.70
The highest price was 63c received in December. The lowest was 33c received in April.

Expenses were as follows:
Feed $96.82
Two Windows70
The total expense was considered $96.82 as the windows were still on hands and good as new when the project ended.

The gain is therefore $152.88. This is a gain of $1.53 per bird for the entire line on a gain of $1.40 on the entire flock per day.

On the farm was another poultry house containing the same number of pure bred birds of the following breeds: Barred Rocks, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes. These were given the same feed and attention that flock No. 1 was given but they did not lay any eggs to amount to anything until about the middle of March. This was due to the difference in the houses. House No. 2, though floored and the cracks stripped fairly well, was not tight enough for egg production in the winter months. House No. 1 was much tighter and it had windows on the east and south sides of the shed. This let in the sun and made the house much warmer and spring-like during the winter.

WILDA CHINN.

What this young lady did any one can do. You can make your poultry the most profitable department of your farm business. Only three things are necessary. First cull the birds and select only those that will lay if given the proper environment. Second, tighten up your hen house and put in windows on the south side. The house should be air and water-proof above and on three sides. The floor should be dry at all times. Third, feed properly. Her teacher in Agriculture, J. F. Bruner, will be glad to assist anyone interested in the work. He is at your service. Call on him.

BOYS

You don't have to go to far lands or to the County Fair to look upon them. Everywhere, it is still the style to have Boys.

Perhaps you are trying to run one or more Boys right this minute. Then you will know that since the world began they were never so tremendously important as now. Your hopes and your aims center on them. You must deliver them out of Boyhood into successful Manhood.

Will your sons stay with the land, or will the will-o-the-wisp of the cities call them away? Armies of country Boys, who could be happiest and most successful on farms, respond to the artificial glamour of town life before they are old enough to know their own minds. They do not know that the rewards of country life—in money, health, and happiness—are far greater. Make them realize that! Guide the restless ambitions of your Boys and spare no pains!

Machines have been a powerful factor in stemming the flow to the cities. Machines banish drudgery and make labor interesting; machines foster the love of mechanics in the Boy; machines are builders of fortunes.

You now own many of the machines made by the International Harvester Company. We are headquarters for the International Full Line, including Titan tractors, International engines, and manure spreaders, Primrose cream separators, McCormick and Deering harvesting, haying, and corn machines, tillage tools, P&O plows, etc. Give the Boys every chance for liking farming and farm life. Perhaps more of these machines will help keep them contented.

FATHER AND SON DIE
IN OLD MINE SHAFTBerry Pickers Drowned When Overcome By Black Damp
Fumes, is Belief

Owensboro, Ky., July 15.—Joe Fuqua, 50 years old, and his son, Robert, 15 years old, were drowned in the shaft of the abandoned Fern Hill coal mine west of Owensboro. Father and son left home early to pick black berries.

The supposition is that the young boy was leaning over the shaft of the mine and was overcome by the fumes of black damp. It is thought that his father descended a ladder in an effort to rescue him, and that he, too, was overcome and fell in the water.

The bodies can be seen in the water, but on account of the strong fumes of black damp a rescue has not been effected. The finding of a lunch basket and a hat near the shaft led to the discovery of the double tragedy.

There is a large crowd at the mine and several vain attempts were made to recover the bodies.

Prolific Mesquite Tree.

A historical mesquite tree, cut down in Honolulu, Hawaii, October 23, 1919 which served as a valuable source of seed, and had been a landmark attracting the interest of thousands of tourists traversing the Pacific ocean, and, during the ninety-two years of its existence, been the progenitor of thousands of trees which now cover throughout the Hawaiian island group approximately 90,000 acres of mostly barren land which formerly was worthless.

Standard English Pound.

The original English pound was derived from the weight of 7,560 grains of wheat taken from the middle of the ears and well dried. This remained the standard from the time of William VIII, in whose reign the avoirdupois pound of 7,000 grains came into use.
This was established as the standard pound during the reign of Queen Elizabeth and has been continued to the present day.

Cornish Tin Miners.

The men who work in the Cornish tin mines are a class by themselves, and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum.
These curious courts have existed by their present form since the middle of the thirteenth century, and in a simpler form, much earlier; and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land, life or limb."

Useful Kerosene.

Housewives, with but few exceptions, do not properly value kerosene.
As a lubricant a drop or two will set things going which refused to go before. As a cleanser it can often be used with great advantage in place of soap and water. Floors can be more quickly and more thoroughly cleaned with a well-oiled mop than with soap and water, leaving a bright, shining surface.

Pacific Ocean Once South Sea.

The South sea is the name originally given and sometimes still applied to the Pacific ocean. In 1583 Balboa crossed the isthmus and arrived on September 29 at a mountain, from the summit of which, looking south, he beheld the expanse of the ocean stretching out before him, while the northern part was closed from view.
He named it, therefore, the South sea.

Dignified Protest.

It is told of an old negro servant of roughish propensities, as many a darky is, that on one occasion he was in-justly reprimanded by his master for the disappearance of a certain article of value. His reply was: "Marse Andrew, I has chuff to answer fer wid the scussions what is jest, widout having to be sponsible for dem what aint so."

Introduction of the Umbrella.

The umbrella was used in England as a luxurious sunshade early in the seventeenth century. Ben Jonson mentions it in a comedy produced in 1610.
The eighteenth century had half eluded before the umbrella had even begun to be used in England by both sexes as it is now.

Prairie Dogs.

The little ground squirrels, or prairie dogs of the western plains, have their homes 12 or 15 feet underground, with corridors and rooms. In some of these chambers the squirrel family lives, and in others food and various materials are stored.

True Happiness.

Happiness consists in the enjoyment of little pleasures, scattered along the common path of life, which, in the eager search for some great and exciting joy, we are apt to overlook.—
Exchange.

The Name Taffy.

The name Taffy is a nickname for the whole Welsh people. The word is simply Davy (David), pronounced with aspiration; Sawney (Alexander) the most common Scotch name; Pat (Patrick) the most common Irish name;
and John (John Bull) the most common English name. Each is used to designate the race or nationality to which it belongs. A similar case is that of Brother Jonathan, once commonly used to designate the people of the United States, but now largely superseded by Uncle Sam.

Memoranda in Glass.

A reader tells us that with the use of gum tragacanth, allowing a week for drying, two sheets of glass can be joined with a sheet of paper between them, without the slightest staining of the paper. It is suggested that this provides a new and useful means of making paper weights and other glass articles with calendars, etc., imbedded in them. The gum, while still wet, appears to have stained the paper; but every trace of this disappears as the drying out proceeds.—Scientific American.

Pasteurizing Milk.

The milk in the bottles may be placed in a boiler in which cold water comes up to the necks of the bottles.
The boiler is then placed on the stove and heated until the water reaches a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit as determined by the thermometer, where it is maintained for 30 minutes. The bottles are then removed, cooled in running water, and kept sealed until the milk is ready to serve.
Pasteurization kills disease-causing germs.

Wonderful Natural Spectacle.

The Garden of the Gods is a tract of land about 500 acres in extent, near Colorado Springs, Colo. It abounds in weird and fantastic pinnacles of red and white sandstone, some of them more than 300 feet high. Among the chief features are the Cathedral Spire, the Balanced Rock, etc. The gateway of the garden consists of two enormous masses of red sandstone, 330 feet high, sufficiently far apart for the roadway to pass between them.

Water on the Brain.

To many people it will come as a surprise to learn that our brains contain from 80 to 90 per cent of water, the remaining 10 or 20 per cent being a mass of white and gray matter, to which scientists have given various impressive names. Incidentally it might be mentioned that the average weight of a man's brain is about 48 ounces, and a woman's 43 ounces.

Japanese Smoking Customs.

Smoking is very common in Japan.
All the men and most of the ladies are about ten years of age. The ladies have pipes with longer stems than the men, and if one of them wishes to show a gentleman a special mark of favor, she lights her pipe, takes a whiff, hands it to him, and lets him smoke.

Surprised Mother.

The missionary society was meeting at our house and the woman who was to lead the devotionals took the clas-tic hand from her blouse, laid it on her lap and began to turn the pages to find the passage she was to read. During the solemn silence my young son marched over to her and, picking up the elastic, he announced: "Why, that's my mother's garter!"—Grit.

Not Strong on Ablution.

The Ahm feels that by washing his face and hands on great occasions he has paid his debt to civilization. The Tibetan considers that the oil of the body contributes needed warmth in his mountain life and refuses to wash it away, but does not object to washing his face and the tips of his fingers once in awhile.

Pots Used to Swell Sound.

The ancient Greeks, to secure resonance without the use of woodwork, placed under the seats of their theaters earthen pots, with the mouths turned toward the stage, the vibrating mass of air in these serving to reinforce the sound.

The Wolf Cry.

Timber wolves when separated raise their noses into the air and send out wireless calls that curdle the blood of every human and lesser animal within hearing. But the other timber wolves reply at once and work toward each other until the pack is united.

Lives Up to the Symptoms.

"You can nearly always tell a man who is suffering from this 'nervousness,'" said Jud Tunkins, "by the way he manages to put in more time resting than anyone else in the neighborhood."

Do You "Hate" Yourself?

For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think.—Paul in his letter to the Romans; 12:3.

Mother.

"Love cannot stay at home; a woman cannot keep it to herself; and a mother is always spending it, giving it away to her children."—MacLeod.

Combines Ease of Operation with Good Work

It's genuine satisfaction to drive the John Deere Corn Binder round after round, and see the standing corn transformed into well-shaped, easily-handled bundles, because the hard work is all taken out.

The power carrier does away entirely with the hard work—you don't have to dump the bundle carrier and return to position hundreds of times during the day.

On the John Deere you press the foot trip lever and the power carrier does the rest—it delivers the bundles free of the path of the horses, and practically parallel to the standing corn. The horses don't have to tramp over and on the bundles. Because the carrier is always in receiving position, no bundles are scattered between the windrows.

We want you to see this Binder. There are a lot of other good things about it we want to show you

BEN JOHNSON

A number of our good Democratic papers are criticizing Senator Harding for refusing to resign his office as Senator after being nominated. Brothers, there's no use, Harding has no doubt consulted one Charles Evans Hughes. Do you remember the name?

Can there be any doubt that the bigging of the Germans over the terms of the treaty which they signed a year ago, is the direct result of America's not being in the League? Can there be any doubt that they are playing for time, to see what the American people will do in November? Can there be any doubt that if America endorses the action of those who kept us out of the League, the Germans will come out boldly and reject the treaty as another scrap of paper? And this will mean war. Another Hindenburg Line will be stretched across Europe. What, then, will America do?

ARRESTED

and was released. Others report that he gave them checks on a Cal-

Things Mend.

Every line of history inspires a confidence that we shall not go far wrong; that things mend. That is the moral of all we learn, that it warrants hope, the prolific mother of reforms. Our part is plainly not to throw ourselves across the track, to block improvement and sit till we are stone, but to watch the uprise of successive mornings and to conspire with the new works of new days.—Emerson.

Tune of 'Old Black Joe.'
Gone are the days when my farm returns no pay;
Gone are the folks that use to Call me Jay;
Gone are my debts for the better
crops I grow;
I hear my neighbors' voices calling
"Farm Bureau."

I'm coming, I'm coming, for my bank is full of dough.
I hear my neighbors telephoning
"Farm Bureau."

Why do I reap where once no grain would grow?

Why do I ride where one on foot did go?

Tooting my horn with pleasure here below?

I hear my neighbors' voices calling
"Farm Bureau."

HARDING'S WET TALK

IN 1917 RECOILS

Liquor Men to Demand That He Fulfill Pledge to Help Obtain Compensation

Washington, July 19.—If Warren G. Harding is elected President of the United States, distillery owners and others put out of the liquor business by the prohibition amendment will demand that he carry out a promise made in 1917 to join a movement to have them compensated for their property losses.

This information was obtained when a statement made by Mr. Harding in the Senate during debate on the resolution to submit the Eighteenth amendment to the States for ratification was unearthed.

What Harding Said

August 1, 1917, Senator Harding, stating his position, said:

"I do not hesitate to say that I approach the question from a strong sense of justice, and if this amendment is submitted to the people of the United States and receives the sanction of three-fourths of the general assemblies, then, if my tenure of office still obtain, I am willing to go further and join in a movement to make it effective through a process of compensation to the business destroyed."

In the same speech, Senator Harding said:

"I am not a prohibitionist, and have never pretended to be, I do not approach this question from a moral viewpoint, because I am unable to see it as a great moral question."

"Ever since I have been in public life in a small way I have seen men continually measured by the wet and dry yardstick, and the submission of this amendment is going to measure every candidate for public office by the wet and dry yardstick until the final settlement."

Drys Oppose Compensation

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, and other leading dry workers here are very much opposed to compensating the liquor interests. The statements made by Senator Harding will be called to his attention by the drys with a request for an explanation and an interpretation under present conditions.

At the same time the liquor interests will take cognizance of the statement and, if Mr. Harding is elected, they will call upon him to use his influence toward providing compensation for them in accordance with his expressed views.

Some $775,000,000 was invested in liquor property at the time the prohibition amendment went into effect, so it is estimated.

NOT A DRY AT HEART

Washington, July 19.—In view of Republican charges that Gov. James M. Cox will be defeated by Western voters because of his alleged "wet" proclivities, Democrats are preparing to use one of Senator Harding's own speeches as campaign material against the Republican nominee.

Democrats will admit that Mr. Harding was one of the sixty-five Senators voting for the joint resolution embodying the Sheppard amendment, but they will contend that he confessed he did so against his general judgment, and that he showed that he was not a prohibitionist at heart. They will say, in answer to Republican indictments of Mr. Cox's "wetness," that the Democratic candidate demanded strict enforcement of anti-liquor laws, although he did not believe in their theory.

It is probable also that some allusion will be made by the Democrats to the fact that Mr. Harding owned shares in a small brewery in Marion, however, it is doubtful if a sincere attempt will be made to make capital out of this.

Friends of Mr. Harding say that he bought the brewery stock merely as investment in a Marion enterprise, following a policy he adhered to in connection with any new industry or scheme in his home town.

Don't Blame The Weather Too Much

If you are feeling lazy and languid, seem dull and stupid, lacking in strength and ambition, do not blame it all together on the weather. The hot sun will not oppress you so much if the bowels are regular and the liver active and healthy. Foley Cathartic Tablets banish biliousness, bloating, gas, bad breath and other results of indigestion and constipation. They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. —(Advertisement.)

The Tricolor.

This really owes its origin to Mary Queen of Scots. It was she who, according to tradition, gave the tricolor device to Paris—the white to represent the house of her royal husband, the dauphin, the blue for Scotland, and the red for the red-coated Swiss of the royal bodyguard. The Revolutionists in 1789 adopted Mary's colors for their own.

Tree Furnished Timber for Church.

A unique church has recently been completed in Santa Rosa, Cal. Every piece of timber in it, except the floor, was cut from one tree—a giant redwood, 18 feet in diameter. The tree, which produced 78,000 feet of timber, grew on a high mountain range near Greenville, 15 miles from the Pacific ocean, and when cut was found to be about eight hundred years old.

First Lifeboat Still in Existence.

The first lifeboat ever made is still in existence in Yorkshire. It was constructed in 1502, to be used "for saving life in storms or other dangers to ships." A poor shipwright invented and made it, and parliament considered his labor and skill so meritorious that it voted him the sum of $2,000 as a reward.

The man who thinks he knows everything always gets into difficulty when conditions require him to verify his information.

Selfishness Gains Nothing.

Men should see life as more than a means of personal advancement. Selfishness may achieve, but its inglorious name will soon be forgotten in the round of yesterdays. It's life that lives for the common good that lays tribute on humanity and carves an indelible name in the very foundations of history. Call it Utopian if you will. Facts show that men must die to really live. And men who give themselves to human betterment live as they raise others from unreasonable drudgery to honorable toil and common comforts.

Liked the Name.

One of the government-owned dwellings near the Union station, Washington, is occupied by a stout colored woman who has converted it into a small hotel for folks of the darker race. Over the door is a signboard with the inscription, "The Annex." I asked the woman to what other hotel was her place an annex. "Oh," she replied, "dat's jes de name of my hotel. Dar ain't no other hotel 'nected with it. I jess picked de word 'Annex' 'cause it sounds high-toned like."—Washington Herald.

Animals as Weather Prophets.

Few beliefs are older or more widespread than that animals, and especially wild animals, have foreknowledge of what the weather is to be, and something that amounts to such foreknowledge many of them doubtless do possess, but there is no reason, and only poor excuses, for assuming that there is a source of information accurate enough and of application remote enough to give any appreciable extension to the weather bureau's prognostications.—Exchange.

Customs Worth Preserving.

In Bavaria, before the war at least, there were all sorts of kindly little celebrations and other things which made life friendlier and more pleasant. If an employee had remained in the same place for five, seven, ten years, etc., his employer frequently gave him a sort of little jubilee celebration. Nor did the employees forget the chief's birthday or "nameday." Nothing expensive—a glass or two of wine, a cake, a little friendly speech.

A Learned Capital.

Annan, capital of the Swiss canton of Argovia, possesses one of the hardest working libraries in the world. Though the library consists of only 80,000 volumes—which is not so large as public institutions go in the United States—the population of the capital itself is only 10,000. With eight volumes per inhabitant, the library of Annan has just cause to boast of itself as a miniature Athens.

This Lady TELLS Her FRIENDS

Mrs. Mary Fricke, 607 Borman St., Belleville, Ill., is just one of the many thousands of ladies throughout the country who, after an agony of years, have at last found health, strength and vigor in PE-RU-NA.

Her own words tell of her suffering and recovery faster than we can do it: "I suffered with my stomach, had neural cramps and headaches so I often could not lay on a pillow. Six years back, tried PE-RU-NA and got good results from the first bottle. To be sure of a cure I took twelve bottles. I have recommended PE-RU-NA to my friends and all are well pleased with results. I will not be one day without PE-RU-NA. Have not had a doctor since I started with PE-RU-NA, which was about fifteen years ago. I am now sixty-three years old, hale, hearty and well. Can do as much work as my daughters. I feel strong and healthy and weigh near two hundred pounds. Before, I weighed as little as one hundred. I hope lots of people use PE-RU-NA and get the results I did." An experience like that of Mrs. Fricke is an inspiration to every sick and suffering woman.

PE-RU-NA will improve the appetite and digestion, purify the blood, soothe the irritated mucous linings, eradicate the waste material and corruption from the system. It will tone up the nerves, give you health, strength, vigor and the joy of living. Do what Mrs. Mary Fricke and thousands more have done—try PE-RU-NA. You will be glad, happy, thankful.

ANTONIO MORENO

Antonio Moreno was a small boy when his father died. Eager to assist his mother by sharing part of the family burden he obtained a position as baker's clerk. For this service he received the princely sum of two dollars a week. Although he liked his position, this Spanish lad had dreams of making a fortune. He had seen wealthy American tourists in his native town and they awakened ambition in his breast. He resolved to save his money and go to the land of promise.

The Americans who visited Campamento were all supposed to be millionaires. Into the mind of Antonio Moreno came dreams, dreams of wealth that lay across the great ocean. He became determined to go to the United States and make a fortune.

When Antonio Moreno, at the age of fifteen, walked up the gangplank from the Gibraltar docks to an American steamship, he was in reality crossing the bridge from nonentity to fame. Aboard the boat was one of America's most distinguished actresses, Miss Helen Ware. Her attention was attracted to the handsome lad with the fiery eyes, and she became interested in him.

"What do you intend to do when you reach America?" inquired Miss Ware.

"Make a fortune," promptly replied young Antonio.

Miss Ware smiled at his confidence and replied, "I think you will find both fame and fortune in the theater if you choose to become an actor." The prophecy is now being realized. Antonio Moreno as the star of such Vitagraph serials as "The Iron Test" and "Perils of Thunder Mountain," is earning international fame and a considerable fortune. While in New York recently he signed a two year contract with the Vitagraph Company and recently finished a serial production dealing with secret service, entitled "The Invisible Hand."

3,374 STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS IN 1910

Affected 4,000,000 Workers, Nine Involving 60,000 Each

Washington, July 16.—Strikes and lockouts in the United States in 1910 totaled 3,374 and affected more than 4,000,000 workers, according to a review issued by the Department of Labor. Approximately one-half of the strikes occurred in five States—New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois.

Although there were thirty-seven more labor conflicts reported last year than in 1918, the total for 1919 was materially under that of 1916 and 1917. On the other hand no strike in 1918 involved as many as 60,000 workers, while no less than nine walkouts last years interrupted the labor of more than 60,000.

The department's review attributed the absence of violence in labor controversies during 1919 to less frequent use of strike breakers.

To Stop Coughing, Sneezing, Wheezing

Unseasonable spring weather left a number of coughs and colds. Now comes the time of hay fever and asthma and more persons than ever will be coughing, sneezing and wheezing. No wonder there is a tremendous demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, that old reliable family remedy for coughs, colds, hay fever, asthma and croup. It heals and soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat, clears the passages and makes breathing easier. —(Advertisement.)

PLANS MADE FOR MILLION DOLLAR STEAM-BOAT ON OHIO RIVER

Memphis, Tenn., July 19.—Plans for the formation of a $1,000,000 Mississippi and Ohio river steamboat organization to restore traffic into and out of Memphis were made at a meeting or representatives of twenty-five manufacturing and jobbing houses here. It is planned to put sufficient steamers in the trade to give Memphis and other points from New Orleans to St. Louis and Cincinnati service similar to that they enjoyed before railroads destroyed the commerce of the river.

A committee was appointed to report on the number of boats necessary, the cost of maintenance, operation and probable limits of the service.

It is planned to get the service under way during the summer and before the advanced rail freight rates become effective.

BUILD A SILO

A word to the wise is sufficient so the county agent has clipped this small item from the Southern Agriculturist:

With a good prospect for some immature corn and with the good profits of the dairy business and the demand for the cheapest methods of feeding beef cattle, more silos should be built. If the hard grain for feeding is scarce, the immature corn can be put in the silo and ears can be saved from part of the corn that is put in the silo by letting it get ripe and by using water in filling the silo. The silo with a silo circle to fill silos co-operatively will help to get by with a late planting of corn and short winter supply this fall.

Keep Up To The Mark

Good health, is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. When they fail to filter out of the blood the poisons and impurities that cause sore, swollen muscles and joints, backache or rheumatic pains, prompt steps should be taken to give the kidneys and bladder the help these symptoms indicate they need. James Carmen, Mayfield, Ky., writes: "I am in good shape and can say I found Foley Kidney Pills certainly fine. I can't say enough for them." —(Advertisement.)

DICK PERRIN IS FIRM IN BELIEF HE'S DOING RIGHT

Says He Intends to Continue

Use of Trutona to Completely

Overcome His Trouble

Louisville, Ky., July 20.—"I consider Trutona, the greatest preparation that has ever been put on the market, and I'm recommending it to all of my friends," says Dick Perrin, who lives in Louisville at 222 South Preston Street.

"For the past ten years I have suffered with nervousness. When I would raise my arm, it would shake like a leaf. While my trouble did not prevent me from executing my duties, my nervousness caused me much embarrassment at times. Several accidents, of which I have been the victim, helped greatly to increase my nervousness."

"I thought since Trutona was helping so many other people, it might help me, and I decided to try the wonderful medicine. Before I had finished the first bottle of Trutona, my nervousness had greatly abated. I intend to continue the use of this Perfect Tonic, as I believe it will completely overcome my trouble. I have taken many different medicines, but never, have I been helped as Trutona has aided me."

Trutona is especially compounded to build up and strengthen weakened and run-down systems. That the Perfect Tonic is almost unfailing in this respect, has been publicly testified to by, not only Mr. Perrin, but by thousands of others who have been benefited. You should give the Perfect Tonic a trial today!

Trutona is sold in Hartford, at James H. Williams, and in Beaver Dam, at the Beaver Dam Drug store. —(Adv.)

COX VICTORY FORESEEN DURING CONFERENCE IN WHITE HOUSE LONG AGO

Nashville, Tenn., July 20.—The nomination of Governor Cox of Ohio by the San Francisco convention hears out a prophecy made nearly two years ago at a White House conference, according to a story related by Gov. A. H. Roberts of Tennessee. A conference called by President Wilson shortly before he sailed for France was attended by all the Governors and some three hundred Mayors.

"The conference had got down to business," says Governor Roberts, "and reports were being made by the various Governors. Governor Edge of New Jersey, Republican, afterward Senator, made a very bitter political attack upon the Administration. The attack came like a clap of thunder upon the assemblage. We were there to solve questions and to aid the President, not as Democrats or Republicans, but as citizens of the United States."

"When Edge had finished his tirade," the Governor's story continues, "Ohio was called."

"I shall never forget the expression on Governor Cox's face. He was so mad his face was livid, and his hands trembled as he grasped the edge of the table. He jerked out a few sentences before he got himself under full control, and then followed one of the most thrilling speeches I ever heard. His defense of Wilson and the Democratic administration was such that the conference went wild. Hats were thrown in the air, and I never saw such a demonstration in my life. When Governor Cox finished there were whispers all about the room: 'There's the next President of the United States.'"

EXTRA TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

My Dear Superintendent:

In order that we may be able to take care of the teacher shortage in a number of counties, there will be held in each county on the first Friday and Saturday (6 and 7) of August an examination for elementary and state certificates. A number of teachers are anxious to teach but are not legally qualified. I wish you would interest yourself in having as many desirable applicants as possible take this coming examination. The law, as you know, requires at least three examinations at stated periods. It allows other examinations to be held whenever necessary. Let me suggest that at the coming examination you use only one assistant examiner unless there be a sufficient number of applicants to justify the use of both of them. It will be difficult to finance the coming examination unless there be a rather large number of applicants.

You will hold this examination just exactly as you hold other examinations, having the white applicants in one room, and the colored, if there be any, in a separate room. Give this examination as much publicity as possible. Do not under any circumstances employ, or allow to begin school, any teacher who is not legally qualified.

With cordial good wishes,
Sincerely,
GEO. CALVIN, State Superintendent.

BASTILE DAY

By Stuart H. Carroll

Oh, I am at work in an office
Composing a two-column ad
To prove that our inner tube patches Are better than any you've had—
While off in a corner of Paris
At a table that holds but two,
Somebody is talking to Mimi
The way that I used to do!

The boss has gone off to the hall game;
The steno, I think, is asleep;
While out in the end of the stock-room
Two office boys read 'em and weep
But over in gay-colored Paris
Confetti is paving each rue,
And someone is kidding with Mimi
The way that I used to do!

Tonight I shall sit on a porch-swing
And talk to a typical miss;
Perhaps we'll indulge in a movie—
Perhaps in a good-night kiss;
But sounds will be wafted from Paris
Like toy balloons broken in two—
And someone is buying for Mimi
The way that I used to do!

But long before midnight approaches
I'll be in my wee little bed;
Queen Silence will reign in our city
And dreams will come into my head
Of Adrienne's, Jacques's or Pocard's Whore someone—I'll never know who—
Is donning hangers to Mimi
The way that I used to do!

THE VICE PRESIDENCY

By the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for Vice President the Democratic National Convention has added strength to its ticket in places where strength will be needed.

Mr. Roosevelt is a young man, in full vigor of mind and body. As the convention has seen, he has the courage of his convictions and the habit of independence. His selection will appeal to the younger elements in the party and should he well received by the great and growing army of independent voters who form an important element in all American decisions at the polls.

Of Mr. Roosevelt's steadfast Democracy no doubt need be entertained. Of his devotion, especially, to the principles of the platform which he accepts, in regard to making peace and gathering for humanity the full harvest sown by American valor in the war, his own service as an energetic and able Assistant Secretary of the Navy throughout the conflict offers the most convincing proof.—New York World.

KENTUCKIAN "RARIN" TO FIGHT HUNS, TAKES BRIDE

Hawesville, Ky., July 11.—Dave Raley, the Hancock County man, who answered his draft questionnaire with "I'm ready for service and rarin' to go," has taken a bride. He recently was married to Miss Mabel Gaynour. It became known today.

In spite of his earnest desire for military service, he was never able to take his place because of a severe attack of rheumatism which nearly cost him his life.

Dirty Piano Keys.

It is more important to keep the keys clean than many people are aware, especially if several students are practising on the same instrument. Dirty keys are a source of infection. They should be wiped with a damp cloth every day. Not so wet that the water runs down between the keys, but sufficient to cleanse them of all matter. Dry with a soft cloth, and close the piano when the room is being swept, but open the lid afterwards, as ivory keys require light in order to keep them from turning yellow.

Why Soap Bubbles Collapse.

The air of an ordinary room is filled with tiny particles of matter which fall on an airy soap bubble, after the surface tension, and—poof—it is gone. The effect of these minute particles on the stability of bubbles was first brought to light, according to Popular Science Monthly, by Sir James Dewar. He experimented in clarified air until he was able to produce bubbles which lasted for months. He has even produced a soap film which was a year old recently and which seems to remain just as it was made.

Millions for a New Stomach

One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in? After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. Prevent disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease.

Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood diseases and their prevention, and he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that could be easily procured at the drug store (liquid or tablets). This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This Discovery gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. For over fifty years it has enjoyed the confidence of the American public. Try it now!

BEAVER DAM

The Baptist church met in conference, last Sunday, and called Rev. C. E. Doves, of Pikeville, Ky., to the pastorate of the old church.

The remainder of the Sowers farm, near the school building, was sold in town lots, last Thursday. The old brick house was also sold and brought $2600.00. It was erected in 1866 by the Rev. Dr. Coleman at a cost of $10000.00, being at that time, the finest dwelling house in Ohio County.

Messrs. Wm. Fliener and Robt. Cox have purchased the concrete plant at Central City and have moved the same to Beaver Dam where they will engage in that business.

Mr. Greenburg Dockery died at his home in Taylor Mines, last Wednesday of bowel consumption. He was 71 years old and a veteran of the Civil War. He is survived by his wife and several children and grand children.

Mr. Bob King took his little 10 year old son to Louisville, last week to be operated on for appendicitis. The operation was successful and he is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Miller, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, are visiting friends in Beaver Dam and stopping with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. W. R. Chapman and wife.

SELECT

Mr. Roy Stewart, Truant Officer, was in town Wednesday.

Messrs. Earl Smith, Lee Ramey and families, of Simmons, visited relatives here, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin and grandson, Glenn, of Graham, and Miss Atherton, of McLean County, visited the families of C. W. Ramey, Sunday.

Miss Loretta Hasey who has been teaching music at McHenry, for the past few months, came home, last week, for a visit.

Miss Flossie Langford returned home Sunday afternoon, after a week's visit in Hartford.

Mrs. Annie Norman is visiting relatives at McHenry and Simmons. Several from here, went to Beaver Dam, Saturday, shopping.

We are having Sunday School every Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Everybody come.

It looks like Cox, Roosevelt, the League of Nations and Woman Suffrage.

BASEBALL SQUIDS

The first teams of Hartford and Beaver Dam are now tied. In the game here July 11, the Hartford boys were victorious by a score of 7 to 6, while in the game played at Beaver Dam, July 17, the boys of that town were victors in one of the best games witnessed in this section, for several years. At the end of the ninth inning, the teams were tied and not until the twelfth inning were they able to break the tie. The final score was 7 to 6.

Hartford and Beaver Dam second teams have played two games, in both of which the latter were victorious.

The local boys went to Calhoun Sunday, where they clashed bats with the so called Calhoun Invincibles. That team boasted of having won every game this season, but Hartford walked away with Sunday's game to the tune of 10 to 3.

MASONIC MEETING AND BANQUET

Hartford Lodge No. 675 F. & A. M., held a special session Monday night, for the purpose of raising the remainder of this lodge's quota to the Million Dollar fund. Mr. Dave Jackson, Grand Secretary for Kentucky was present and conferred the Master Mason's degree on two candidates. He also delivered a masterful address in which he told of the splendid accomplishments of the Masonic Widows and Orphans home and appealed to the lodge to raise her quota. Within a few minutes after the conclusion of his address the members subscribed more than the $600 lacking to complete the amount expected from the Hartford lodge.

After the completion of the degree work, the lodge was called from labor to refreshment and those present enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon. Almost 100 Masons were present and almost every lodge in the county was represented.

LIGHTNING STRIKES BARN SETTING IT ON FIRE

While the rain and electrical storm was in progress, last Wednesday afternoon, lightning struck the barn of Mr. C. S. Rowe, near Centertown, and the strike and resulting fire destroyed practically all the contents. Among the losses were two horses, several tons of hay, some wheat and many other valuables.

A number of persons had entered the barn seeking refuge from the rain but only one of the number, Mr. Arvin Leisure, was seriously shocked by the bolt. He is recovering nicely. A peculiar thing about the matter is that although the people were standing almost between the two horses killed, all escaped alive.

A SOCIAL AND PARTY

Miss Versie Newcomb gave a Social on Wednesday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. H. M. Downey, of Owensboro, and her cousin, Miss Belva Renfrow, of Hartford. Quite a nice crowd was present. Everyone had a nice time.

THE AGRICULTURAL PLANK

(Owensboro Inquirer)

The agricultural plank of the San Francisco platform invites the support of the farmer not only on the basis of very definite accomplishments in the field of agricultural legislation, during the past eight years, but on a further definite constructive program as well.

It makes for itself an excellent case. By contrast with such generalities of the Chicago platform as "the farmer is the backbone of the nation" and "the crux of the present agricultural condition lies in prices, labor and credit," the Democrats are able to enumerate no less than six important pieces of constructive legislation, that have been passed with the idea of putting agriculture on a better footing. That the last Republican congress not only failed to add anything to this program, but even interfered seriously with the operation of the federal farm loan act is a matter easy of proof.

In the agricultural northwest the farmers have united to a high degree to protect their own interests. Unfortunate consequences for the country would ensue were an unenlightened agricultural policy to oblige the farmers of the nation to align themselves with the radical elements of the industrial centers.

Increasing farm tenancy and absentee landlordism present a serious agricultural problem. The Wilson administration has acted in a way to check the growth of this unwholesome tendency, and to prevent agriculture from deteriorating into the sad state in which it now finds itself in England. The party now pledges itself to a continuance of the good work. By supplying fertilizers at reasonable costs, by facilitating the co-operative handling of farm products, and by further improving credit facilities more is to be accomplished in the direction of easier acquisition of the land.
